CONKLING CONQUERED.

Robertson Confirmed Without Opposition.

Marked Change in the New York Senate.

Strong Anti-Conkling Feeling Developing.

Re-Election of the Ex-Senators Improbable.

ROBERTSON RATIFIED

New York May 18—Judge Robertson looks happy and hopeful this morning He says his belief that both Conkling and Platt will be re-elected Why do you think so? Because I am a democrat and what they [illegible] is in the interest of the democratic party Their men [illegible] I am a democrat and what they [illegible] the fact that the sur[illegible] Conkling and Platt will be re-elected [illegible]

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Albany May 18—In the Senate Mr Conkling [illegible] the resolution [illegible] the office [illegible] Senator Robertson [illegible] Senator Jones moved to [illegible] the committee on [illegible]

Judge Robertson says it is his belief that both Conkling and Platt will be re-elected [illegible] the Senate [illegible] Senator Jones [illegible] the committee on [illegible]

SENATOR KINTZING WILL

New York May 18—Senator Kintzing of Lancaster is confident Conkling will be re-elected [illegible] Senator Kintzing says that Garfield wished to have Conkling and should give [illegible] Lincoln Hise [illegible] the country and the party He made a strong appeal against others [illegible] Hamilton Fish Jr [illegible] Sherman Burwell Hay Washburne [illegible]

PARTISANS TALK

New York May 18—Assemblyman Jones [illegible] Conkling [illegible] the republican central club of which [illegible] Dutcher [illegible] Conkling will be re-elected [illegible] City Hall [illegible]

ROBERTSON CONFIRMED

The time succeeds the dramatic surprise [illegible] Senatorship [illegible] Conkling have merely [illegible] and [illegible] The motives may have [illegible] which induced the president to [illegible] Merritt but the senators exhausted the legitimate weapons of the opposition [illegible]

VIEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Albany May 18—The impression is growing that the senate will refuse to go into the election of United States senators and leave the [illegible] to the next legislature Some senators think the question is to whether the [illegible] senators should be returned and [illegible] this approved is one the [illegible] would have an opportunity to pass [illegible]

IN DEMAND

[illegible] M Nicol arrived today and is [illegible] by politicians Only [illegible] necessary to detect Conkling [illegible] have been secured

CONKLING'S FRIENDS

Washington May 18—Since yesterday there has been a good deal of comment on the part of Senators David Davis and Jones, of Nevada, in standing by Conkling as they have [illegible] It is said on good authority that they were the only members of the senate who [illegible] on the ninth ballot Jones has [illegible] himself a firm friend and admirer [illegible] It is possibility that Conkling will come [illegible] he is an independent republican senator [illegible] It is inferred from the character of [illegible] he has calculated all his chances [illegible] Platt will be returned [illegible] with the strong endorsement of [illegible] which they will interpret in such [illegible] to make them independent and [illegible] Joining with them is [illegible] Jones of [illegible] They will hold the balance of [illegible] and be of the most im[illegible]

NO NOMINATE AGAIN THIS

Albany May 18—At twenty minutes to [illegible] while the senate was in commit[illegible] the whole Senator Lord in the chair [illegible] Platt entered and handed Sena[illegible] a telegram [illegible] of excite[illegible] the lobby and the circle and business was [illegible] until Senator Robertson handed the telegram to Senator Wooten who quietly read the contents and rounding toward the desk said "Come down from there Lord which are we in, I move the committee rise" Senator Lord then put the motion which was declared carried In the meanwhile Robertson had returned to his seat in the circle and appeared to be deeply affected Senator Wooten assumed the duties of the president and said

On motion of Mr Sessions the senate has a recess of five minutes I will read the dispatch to the Hon Wm H Robertson "Your confirmation is just made unanimous" Accepted congratulations

There was the wildest excitement and cheering and clapping of hands Sessions jumped on his chair and gave three cheers for Robertson while Husted, who had come in from the assembly, leaped upon his chair and joined in cheering Mr Lemons then called for three cheers for President Garfield which were given with a will A general handshaking followed and the senate adjourned

CONGRATULATIONS

Washington May 18—The extreme rapidity with which the long pending controversy was finally disposed of has however very readily explainable The fight against confirmation was headed by Senators Conkling and Platt when they sent in their resignations two days ago and as they had given up the contest of confirmation before their sympathizers would have simply exposed themselves to hostile remembrance from the administration thereafter and prolonged the senate session without a possibility of preventing the foregone conclusion which was therefore gracefully as well as wisely abdicated today by abstaining from opposition by any former to any degree whatever It was also probably explained by a prominent senator who had been expected to make an earnest speech against Roberts confirmation that he had made his speech because he felt he could not fairly discuss the case without giving political assumption to the arguments which they would undoubtedly employ against future time against the republican party

Everybody opinion tonight is that the senate will be able to dispose of the remainder of the executive business in time for final adjournment Saturday or perhaps by Friday next

NOT MOVED

The Evening Star publishes the following which may perhaps be true but which as yet lacks confirmation Gen Grant wrote to the president some days ago a letter urging the withdrawal of Robertson's nomination in the interest of peace and harmony in New York The letter was delivered to the president by a member to whom it was enclosed by Gen Grant Whether or not the president replied to the letter has not been learned but it is very evident that the advice contained did not move him

ENTHUSIASM TO CONKLING

New York May 18—A Republican meeting enthusiastic adopted resolutions endorsing Conkling and upholding the administration

Albany May 18—There has been a marked change in the situation of the senate It is evident that members of the legislature have advice from their constituents Those who heretofore were unprepared to express themselves have talked freely today in many have signed the anti-Conkling papers in circulation It is claimed tonight that there are signatures enough attached to make it utterly impossible to elect Conkling and Platt and the anti-Conkling section is exceedingly jubilant The stalworts exhibit depression though some of them are exceedingly bitter They are very reticent of their intentions and actions of playing a still hunt It is been reported that neither Conkling nor Platt are candidates for re-election but this is contradicted The sudden outburst in the senate chamber today when Mr Robertson's confirmation was announced was the most enthusiastic demonstration ever seen in such a place It broke down all barriers of decorum and the chamber fairly rang with cheers and applause Robertson was overcome and afterwards said in all his life he never before knew what it was to be popular Immediately after this demonstration the anti-Conkling element seemed to swell in proportions It appears to be [illegible] of the flood gates of a long pent up feeling There is been some talk of the senate refusing to go into election to fill vacancies, but the leaders of the anti-Conkling elements this afternoon declared the election should take place and that the legislature should not adjourn until a choice is made that neither the resigning senators would be returned It is now, they say for the Conkling element to say when the election shall be held They are ready but the governor still withholds his nomination. This non action on his part has given rise to a suspicion that the Conkling element prefer not to go into the election with this legislature Already the names of candidates are mentioned, among them Wm M Evarts Sherman Rogers, Judge Folger, Warren Miller, Roscoe Conkling, and Chauncey M Depew The defeated will undoubtedly name Francis Kernan, and Ex-Gov Lucius Robinson

ORDER FOR CONKLING

It is stated by those who claim some knowledge of Mr Conkling's affairs and objects that General Grant will stick to the New York senator through thick and thin, and that he will abandon everything else to help Conkling if the latter should be hard pressed in his contest for re-election

STATE NEWS.

Result of the Spring Races at Denver.

Connor Winner of the Wrestling Match.

Capture of an Interesting Leadville Character.

A Female Brigand Captured

Leadville May 18—The Chronicle this evening contains an account of the capture here of Mary Smith the female captain of a gang of thieves long infesting Leadville together with a large amount of stolen property in her possession and about her premises This woman who is young and attractive, is said to have a checkered history Those who know her state that for years she has made a living by criminal pursuits On one occasion she went to a hotel in Louisville and induced a gentleman to come to her room When he disrobed she coolly pitched his clothes out of the window and then began to undress herself When she had removed her outer garments she demanded that he sign a check for five thousand dollars or she would call the clerk and expose him He was a man of family a pillar in the church, and rather than be disgraced he paid the blackmail and ordering a new suit departed This fact is well known to the authorities here A few days ago a man who is known to be crook told a police that this woman was implicated in the robbery from Fisher Alley a couple of weeks ago This story was that with a male companion and dressed in trousers and coat she went through the victim while the other held him up Her house was dark and apparently deserted all day, but in the night every chink was a line of light, and it is believed that secret meetings of the gang were held there The capture is a very important one and will probably go a great way to break up the gang

Bad Box

Leadville May 18—It was reported here this evening that two men one named Frank Mathison an engineer on the D & R G road had been seen about nine days ago near the mouth of the Roaring Fork, unable to proceed further and being without provisions They could not proceed because of the depth of the snow while below them, a few miles distant, was a band of hostile Utes, whom they could not evade if they traveled southward The swift current and rocks in the river prevented them from crossing to the other side and resuming their travel It is feared they will die from starvation or at the hands of the Indians A party of men starts to-morrow to their relief

Dramatic Success

Leadville, May 18—The Tabor Opera House was crowded to-night Charlotte Thompson as Parthenia W. E. Sheridan as Ingomar Their was great enthusiasm and they were called before the curtain at the end of each act.

Cause Jealousy

Denver May 18 A Republican Boulder special says Monday night Mrs Nettie Still shot Alphretta Ray a thirteen year-old girl Cause jealousy Miss Ray was engaged to a young man who was obliged to keep away from town on account of an indictment hanging over his head Monday Mr Still went with Miss Ray to meet her lover at a secluded spot and Mrs. Still became jealous When Miss Ray returned alone about ten o'clock, Mrs Still took a revolver and shot her twice in the abdomen from the effects of which she died

Baby's Latest

Leadville May 18—Baby McDonald the thirteen year old heroine of a dozen sensations, the last of which is a divorce suit eloped with her husband last night Baby's father charged other conduct tore her stage clothes into bits

ROBERTSON CONFIRMED

Early Adjournment--Other Washington Matter

Washington May 18 The famous Robertson nomination which has occupied so large a share of public attention for two months past was confirmed by the senate with practical unanimity today Just one minute after it was called up for action its collector of customs of the port of New York without an amendment of note of any kind or word of discussion during the remainder of the executive session The senate confirmed the following nominations Alex Bermudez Louisiana United States district judge for the western district of Louisiana Rear Admiral Edmund J Nichols to be chief of the bureau of yards and docks navy department

FRONT AT REMARKS

Washington May 18 Davis of West Virginia after calling the senate to order in a firm Davis whether it was now ready to proceed with the consideration of the resolution for the election of senate officers Davis replied that whatever the majority of the senate should decide on that resolution he would bow to He would not be found resisting the will of the senate itself If the senator from West Virginia had become from an incident occurrence on the republican side ready to submit to the will of the majority Davis said he believed that there was a majority on his side to do Davis had not a word to say but was willing to bow to the will of the majority for or against him

Davis said he was glad the senator from Massachusetts was willing to proceed with the pending business which he had been so anxious to go on with during the past months

Dawes regretted that the senator was ambitious to expose the ground on which he stood

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Robertson was confirmed without a roll call—Merrill was also confirmed Badeau was withdrawn The president nominated Alex Bermudez United States Judge and Ross Wilkinson as United States Marshal and F W Weston deputy

COMMITTEE ON PRINTING

Anthony the chairman on the committee on printing asked that the committee be discharged from further consideration of the resolution enlarging the scope of the official register so ordered

Burnside then called up the resolution reported from the committee on foreign relations relative on the Inter-Oceanic canal He hopes the senate would act upon the resolution immediately

Ingalls said it was very clear to him that it was not wise or expedient for the senate at this period of its setting to pass a resolution on the subject referred to, especially on the terms that were employed in the present resolution After the debate the resolution was postponed until the first Monday in December

NOMINATIONS SUGGESTED

Washington May 18—The president nominated Thomas A Osborne, of Kansas minister to Brazil vice Bellard, recalled Judson Kilpatrick, of New Jersey, has been nominated minister to Chili, vice Osborne, transferred, Stephen A Hurlbut, of Illinois is appointed minister to Peru vice Christiancy recalled Lew Wallace, of Indiana, minister resident of Turkey Geo H Mum, of Tennessee, minister to Colombia vice Nicholson, recalled Jeremiah Rusk, of Wisconsin, minister to Paraguay and Uruguay, vice Caldwell, recalled Horace Taylor, of Wisconsin consul to Marseilles, vice Gould recalled

RECEIVING THE NEWS

Secretary Windom was with President Garfield today when the news of Robertson's confirmation reached the White House The president did not say anything but simply went on affixing his signature to some nominations that were before him

APPROVAL OF THE PRESIDENT

New York, May 18—The Germans propose a grand mass meeting to approve the president's course The Commercial's Albany special says, Evidently the Robertson men are going to make a strong fight against the stalwart majority, and the confirmation of Robertson will materially add to their strength It is pretty certain that Conkling will stand entirely aloof from the struggle, and there is a report that he has placed in the governor's hands a positive refusal to accept a re-election under any circumstances The chances now favor the combination by which the stalwarts and the anti-stalwarts will be chosen.

Cornell and Depew are named by the wise ones.

BETTER AND BETTER.

Improvements in the Arrangements of the Opera House.

The Handsomest and Best Theatre in the West.

After having been closed for three weeks the opera house opens again tonight It was generally known to the public that owing to a serious mistake of the architects a large number of the seats in the balcony circle could not be used, as the stage was entirely shut from the view of those occupying them by an abrupt curve in the gallery The opera house managers knowing that the change would have to be made something concluded to have it done at once under the supervision of Mr Davis, the gentleman who acted as head carpenter during the construction of the Opera House Immediately after the termination of the Kate Claxton engagement on the 8th of April the work was commenced and has been in progress ever since The change has added wonderfully to the looks of the auditorium and now it is now arranged every seat in the balcony circle gives as good a view of the stage as any of the seats in the parquette or parquette circle The balcony circle is now curved very similar to that of the Madison Square theatre in New York and is very much an improvement on the way it was first arranged Mr Davis was the originator of the plans by which the change was made and to his personally superintended the work Not only have the Opera House Company consisting of Messrs Hewlett Crowell and Humphrey made the necessary changes in the balcony circle but they have also changed the entire working of the stage scenery As it was to expensive all the scenery with the exception of the wings were lowered from the flies by the means of pulleys and weights This method was not found to be very practicable as it required too much time in changing the scenes and necessitated the employment of too many men to do the work In the future the scenes will be operated entirely from the sides by means of windlasses and rollers which is by far the simplest and most speedy method Mr Hopkins the scenic artist, who has been working on the scenery for the past two months has just finished his work, and the full thirteen sets are now complete We can safely say that there is not a single stage west of New York better fitted with scenery than that of the Colorado Springs Opera House Every scene is complete in itself with wings and stage furniture to match Mr Hopkins the artist who has done the scenic painting has the reputation of being the best scenic artist in the west

His scenes are all original and duplicates of these cannot be found upon any stage in the United States or Europe The decoration of the auditorium which was not entirely finished at the time of the opening is now complete Handsome and appropriate designs have been placed in the gilt panels upon either side of the proscenium arch and over the door opening from the lobby to the parquette The posts which support the balcony circle have been handsomely gilded and a maroon velvet rail has been placed upon the rails around the balcony circle and parquette It is an undisputed fact that the freescoing and entire interior decoration of the Opera House is equal if not superior to that of any opera house in the country Music, art, drama, sculpture and architecture are all represented, and to Mr Hopkins the artist is due the credit for having designed and performed the artistic part of the work His prison, parlor street and garden scenes are marvels of beauty and would be ornaments to any stage Take it as a whole the Opera House is complete as money could make it

We are informed that an addition will be built on the rear of the stage to be used for dressing, property and baggage rooms With these been used conveniences nothing will be lacking which will in any way add to the comfort of the actors and actresses who may appear upon the stage From this time forward Mr J F Hazleton, who was here with the Lingrisha company, will assume the management of the Opera House He has had an extended experience in the management of theatrical affairs in the east and it is his purpose to provide Colorado Springs with the leading dramatic and operatic attractions

NO INDIAN OUTBREAK

What an Experienced Army Officer Says.

Denver, May 18—This morning Governor Pitkin received a report from General Sheridan dated Animas City, May 14th, from which we make the following extracts I have just returned from the western portion of the county, and have made every effort to learn the movements and intentions of the Indians. After very careful investigation on the ground, at the scene of the trouble I am positive that this was an unprovoked premeditated murder and robbery and that it does not indicate an immediate outbreak on the part of our Indians, but it is likely significant of future intentions On the 8th of this month Ignacio sent three messengers (Indians) to the camp of Naraguinup and Moriana, ordering them to come over to the post on the La Plata and have a talk and go with him to the agency and be good Indians, etc They refused to obey Naraguinup and Moriana are but subchiefs of Ignacio's band of southern Utes, and are chief headmen of the renegade band called Pintes, the worst renegade band of cutthroats and thieves on the American continent, and are the murderers of Thornburgh, Meeker and Smith We can have no peace or assured security as long as this band of thieves and murderers are allowed to run at large and defy all authority I visited the camp of Ignacio who, with his old men and squaws, is on his way to the agency Ignacio says he does not want to fight, but says that the Pintes do, and that he is doing all he can to get them to come to the agency, but that they will not take his advice I have little doubt that he finds himself unable to control his own young men who may desire to join the Pintes in their depredations Ignacio has not the power to compel obedience that is the renegades outnumber the forces under his control, and are much more powerful I think the majority of the Indians in this part of the state will play the Pinte dodge on us

CITY COUNCIL.

Raising the Water Rates and Ordering a New Bridge.

The City Council met last Tuesday, Mayor France in the chair There were present Aldermen Giddings, Brown, Johnson, Walker and Hinebaugh The first business before the Council was the consideration of water rates

After some discussion the council adopted the following ordinance rates

| For " 2nd | 15 00 |
| For other ordinary places of business | 5 00 |
| For barber shops, first chair | 5 00 |
| For each additional chair | 50 |
| For D & R G R R Co tank work | 50 00 |
| For school central building | 15 00 |
| For primary buildings | 10 00 |
| For bottling works | 10 00 |
| For brewery | 25 00 |
| For court house | 50 00 |
| For county jail | 50 00 |

After the new rate for the water works was assessed the council took up the subject of roads and bridges and decided to build a bridge on Known street over Shocks Run

Some Advice

Arizona is not considered a good show state This opinion is confirmed by the following letter which appeared in the latest issue of the New York Dramatic News

To the Editor of the Dramatic News

Advise all show companies, whether dramatic or otherwise, to give Arizona and New Mexico a wide berth they are the roughest and worst countries to travel in and no money there railroad expenses very high not a dollar to be made I have played every town and hamlet from San Francisco to this place for all they are worth, and am glad to get out of them with my scalp and it has been a terrible up-hill work for me to pull McWade and company this far Yours truly,

Paul H Kinsey Manager Robert McWade

Work in Little Silver

Leadville Democrat

The Little Silver people, about noon yesterday, suspended work in their shaft and began the task of taking out the eight inch Cornish pump The pump has worked quite well but being too small to handle the large amount of water made by the mine, it was necessary to run it at a very high speed, and the machinery and foundations have sustained considerable damage In consequence the pump had to be stopped It is now contemplated to use portions of the pumping machinery and the discharge pipes, and secure a larger pump and place it in the American shaft This shaft is owned by very near the same parties that control of the Little Silver, and is more favorably located and deeper than the Silver Shaft, and therefore better adapted to opening up the ore bodies of both the Silver and American properties

The removal of the Little Silver pump causing serious inconvenience to the Robert E Lee mine which has been forced to suspend work on the lower east level, that was being driven to connect the new shaft with the old workings of the mine Hon J Y Marshall, president of Lee Mining company, left for New York last night, and arrangements will doubtless be made to immediately place a large pump in the new shaft of the Lee

Rip Van Winkle

Mr. Robert McWade will appear this evening in the Opera House in the character of Rip Van Winkle He comes to us with good vouchers from the east and from the west He is a gentleman and an actor of great ability We hope that the Opera House will be crowded this evening to witness the trials and tribulations of poor old Rip Van Winkle, whose story has been made immortal by Washington Irving, the greatest prose writer of America

Racing at San Francisco

San Francisco May 18 In the second day of the spring meeting of the Pacific Coast Blood Horse Association at Oakland Park, Windover's Leinster filly won the extra stake for two year-olds, dash of five-eighths of a mile, in 1 04 Rosalie won the Selling purse one and one-eighth miles in 2 01 Minnie Morris won the third race taking second and third heats, time 1 19¾, 121¼ and 121 In the Pacific cup, dash of two and a quarter miles, Conner was a great favorite in the pools 40 to 7 on the field Conner won under a strong pull Jack Douglass second, Haddington third Nathan Coombs fourth, time 4 05

French riots directed against Jews have occurred at Smolla, in Russia, at Kieff and at Odessa, where the Jews' houses were wrecked It is reported that the populace of Tartova threw the Jews into the flames of burning houses.

DAILY GAZETTE.

The fight is over. Robertson is confirmed. Conkling and Platt appealed to the country and the senate responded by confirming Robertson in one minute after the nomination was called up. Only four senators voted against it, one of whom was a democrat. The victory for Garfield is a remarkable one. Had Conkling had a good case, he could have made a good fight, but he saw defeat was certain. The republican senators have by this confirmation expressed their approval of the act of President Garfield. They have expressed the sentiments of their constituents. The opposition to the confirmation of Robertson was uncalled for and has been properly rebuked.

RECOGNIZING FACTIONS.

In regard to Mr. Garfield's evident purpose of giving the "Grant crowd" the cold shoulder, and debar them from any participation in the affairs of the administration, Mr. Garfield will doubtless learn that the wing of the party which could send three hundred delegates to a national convention to stand solid to the last is not without influence. He had an opportunity to conciliate all factions. He has used that opportunity to widen a breach that could have been healed, and must abide the consequences.—Leadville Herald.

This is about the way the "306" papers will whine. The statement however that Garfield's evident purpose is to give the "Grant crowd" the cold shoulder is as unjust as it is absurd. His cabinet contains two men who were pronounced Grant men, James and Lincoln. Windom's candidacy was in the interest of Grant to keep the Minnesota delegation from Blaine, and Windom was really a Grant man. This makes three of his seven members of the cabinet Grant men. Before the nomination of Robertson, Garfield had nominated to office from New York only Grant men. The nominations were to such high offices as postmaster general, minister to France, collector of Buffalo and U. S. district attorneys. The interest by their fears, but all such will now desert him, and welcome the opportunity that will permit them to escape from under his party lash and will rejoice in the downfall of the power of an imperious master. Very few there will be, when the crash comes, who will lick the paralyzed hand of the man at whose feet they have laid in mental subjection when his arm was strong. The worship born of fear never outlasts the power that begets it, nor ever follows with regret that power to its tomb. Conkling has ruled by fear; he has not had, nor has he cared to have, friends such as will stand by him in adversity. His followers will rejoice when he is shorn of his locks, and will hold a banquet at the funeral of his imperiousness.

MONETARY MATTERS

Favorable Outlook confirmed by Statistics

(New York) The Public says exchanges for the second week of May were more than those of the first week, and shows splendid increase in every part of the country. As this date last year, stocks were no longer at their highest, not was business at its extreme flood tide, but its volume is still remarkably large, and exceeds a fair percentage that of the corresponding week of 1880.

Every city but two are showing an increase, and only one city reports a decrease of less than ten per cent in comparison with returns for the week of last year. Those given below are decidedly satisfactory. It is quite impossible to extract from these any evidence that business is stagnant or dull—that the general prosperity of the country is waning. While speculation was active in the stock market last week, the bank exchanges relatively bore about the same ratio of one year ago. The total aggregated to $2,787,107,[illegible] increase of exchanges after deducting the double entries of the stock sold, amounted to about $71,[illegible], or a loss of 0.[illegible] for the corresponding week of last year, a gain of 24 per cent. The gains at Philadelphia, Cincinnati and New Orleans are comparatively small, while the increase at Boston, Pittsburg and Louisville among the larger cities is particularly encouraging. But the weekly reports are hardly sufficient to warrant the inference that transfers of trade from one city to another are taking place. San Francisco reports a notable gain, but in Portland, Oregon, its exchanges one year ago were unusually small, and the comparison in Kansas City, at with the week in which the exchanges exceeded in [illegible] of the month, and in Indianapolis, of the second, happened to coincide with the large [illegible] growth of business, and there is no indication that it is considered by falling in any branch of trade or manufacture in any part of the country.

Local Matters

New York, May 18.—The suit of William Williams against the Western Union Telegraph company and others was continued this morning. Ex-Judge Lockwood opened for the plaintiff. Western Union company was represented by Mr. Cole, who said his opinion would be that an action in dollars to build the Atlantic and Pacific company. On the statement it is stated that before the company's lease was effected he paid the value of the Atlantic and Pacific company at twenty million dollars. This case is one well worth a million dollars. The Atlantic and Pacific had quarrels with railroads and during the last quarter before the consolidation was started, but it recovered. Its earnings had steadily increased.

Garfield and

St. Louis, May 18.—The Globe Democrat's City of Mexico correspondent writes under date of May 5 says: Gen. Grant will not get his title of commissioner from this congress, and will leave for home in ten days. He is in many and disappointed mood. It is stated however that a law will be passed conferring on the president full authority to make contracts and grants of subsidy. The commissions sought by General Grant may therefore be obtained direct from the president without the intervention of congress.

Family Difficulties

CINCINNATI, May 18.—The Times special from Mount Pleasant says John Hays shot Nancy Hays his wife dead at eight o'clock this morning at Hunter and escaped by flight. Nancy Hays kept a house of ill fame at Colerain, Ohio.

A dispatch from Lima says last Saturday afternoon Samuel Innes, a farmer, and his sons in which he stabbed his eldest son Innes with a pitchfork, it is feared fatally.

The friends of William E. Chandler are hopeful that his nomination as solicitor general may be rejected. Unless the judiciary committee tomorrow and so through the senate Friday. The more general belief is that the nomination will either be left unacted on in the committee or be rejected by a solid democratic vote if it reaches the senate. In case the senate fails to act upon it, however, there is some reason to believe that the president will appoint him to the office immediately after adjournment.
